

Quality Reporting in Medicaid: Stakeholder Roundtable Discussion

Thursday, Sept. 11, 2014
10 am – noon

American Congress of Obstetricians and Gynecologists
409 12th St. SW, Ste. 210 (Board Room)

10 – 10:15 am

Introductions

Bruce Siegel, MD, MPH – President and CEO, America's Essential Hospitals

10:15 – 10:45 am

Staff Briefing: The Partnership for Medicaid's Quality Reporting Proposal

An outline of the current state-of-play in quality reporting and an overview of the Partnership's proposal to improve quality reporting in the Medicaid program

Kathy Kuhmerker – Vice President, Medicaid Policy, Association for Community Affiliated Plans, second co-chair of the Partnership for Medicaid

Heather Foster, MPH – Deputy Director, Federal Affairs, National Association of Community Health Centers, chair emeritus of the Partnership for Medicaid

Shawn Gremminger, MPP – Director of Legislative Affairs, America's Essential Hospitals, first co-chair of the Partnership for Medicaid

10:45 – 11:45 am

Discussion and Feedback

Group conversation about the Partnership's quality reporting proposal

Bruce Siegel, MD, MPH – President and CEO, America's Essential Hospitals

Meg Murray – CEO, Association for Community Affiliated Plans

Dan Hawkins – Senior Vice President for Federal, State, and Public Affairs, National Association of Community Health Centers

Discussion questions:

1. What impact will a national Medicaid quality reporting strategy have on your organization and the people you represent?
2. What are some of the needs you are seeing for quality reporting in the Medicaid program?

3. How would you approach estimating the savings and costs that would be associated with implementing such a quality reporting program?

4. What action can we take now to advance this proposal?

11:45 am – noon Next Steps

Bruce Siegel, MD, MPH – President and CEO, America’s Essential Hospitals, first co-chair of the Partnership for Medicaid

Noon Adjourn